Homi K. Bhabha Nation and Narration - GBV

Of Mimicry and Man: The Ambivalence of Colonial Discourse Author(s): Homi Bhabha ... HOMI BHABHA Mimicry reveals something in so far as it is distinct from what might be called an itself ... inner incompatibility of empire and nation."9 It problematizes the signs of racial and cultural priority, so that the "national" is no longer naturalizable

Bhabha, in his preface, writes 'Nations, like narratives, lose their origins in the myths of time and only fully encounter their horizons in the mind's eye'. From this seemingly impossibly metaphorical beginning, this volume confronts the realities of the concept of nationhood as it is lived and the profound ambivalence of language as it is written.
